

Application Instructions and Checklist For the Master of Liberal Arts Entering Class of 2018-2019

STANFORD UNIVERSITY

Welcome!

This document contains important information regarding the application process for the Master of Liberal Arts Program. Please read the instructions closely.

We are seeking a diverse, energetic group of students who look forward to a rigorous program of broad exposure and intellectual growth. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree (or equivalent) from an accredited college or university. A minimum GPA of 3.0 from the student's undergraduate institution is expected; however, the admissions committee also gives consideration to applicants' postgraduate experiences and to their recent accomplishments. The Master of Liberal Arts is a graduate degree in the liberal arts, which requires of its entering students background, coursework, and accomplishment in this field of study.

GENERAL APPLICATION INFORMATION

The application for the MLA Program consists of seven parts:

1. Basic on-line application data:
 - Biographical and contact information; educational and employment history
 - Test Scores (please see page B for information regarding test scores)
2. Intellectual Interest Essay
 - Short essay uploaded to application in lieu of the Statement of Purpose (details on page B); Upload on page 15 on on-line application
3. MLA Essay
 - Critical writing response and appraisal of an article we send you (details on page B)
 - Upload on page 15 of on-line application
4. Curriculum Vitae
 - Details on page B; Upload on page 15 of on-line application
5. Letters of recommendation:
 - Three letters of recommendation are required (details on page B)
6. Transcripts
 - Details on page B
7. Application Fee
 - The application fee is $125 - details on paying the fee are given in the on-line application

The Master of Liberal Arts (MLA) Program uses Stanford's on-line graduate application system to collect and process applications.

You must read and print these instructions before beginning the on-line application.

Please note that while the MLA Program uses Stanford's on-line graduate application system, many of the requirements for the MLA Program are different from other degree programs, and some of the information being requested in the on-line system is not applicable to MLA applicants. It is critical that you follow the instructions in this document.

At any point, you may contact our office for assistance. We can be reached at 650-725-0061 or mlaprogram@stanford.edu.

APPLICATION DETAILS

Test Scores

GRE

The MLA program does not require applicants to take the GRE. Instructions on page D will guide you on how to proceed through that section.

TOEFL

TOEFL Scores are required of all applicants whose first language is not English. The only exception is for applicants who have earned a U.S. bachelor's or master's degree in the area of Humanities from a college or university accredited by a regional accrediting association in the United States. ETS should send scores to Stanford – code 4704. Finding a testing location and scheduling a test can be time consuming—please plan in advance.

Transcripts (you must complete both steps)

STEP 1: Arrange to have TWO official transcripts sent directly to the MLA department (address listed on page E) from every postsecondary institution you have attended—no matter the length of time you attended (degree and non-degree). Include transcripts from junior colleges and continuing studies programs (don't send transcripts from Stanford Continuing Studies, we will obtain those transcripts for you).

- Certified electronic transcripts are acceptable. They must be sent directly from the school to mlaprogram@stanford.edu.

STEP 2: Arrange to have ONE official transcript from each school you received a degree from sent TO YOU, so that you can then scan and upload to the on-line application.

Intellectual Interest Essay

The online application asks applicants to upload a Statement of Purpose. We do not want you to do this. In place of the Statement of Purpose, we would like you to upload an Intellectual Interest Essay. Find instructions for this on page E.

MLA Essay

To evaluate your writing, we ask you to write an essay in response to an article we send you. As soon as you complete and save through page 5 of your online application, we receive notice that you have started the application, and within 48 hours will email you the article to respond to, along with specific instruction about what we are looking for, length, etc.

Curriculum Vitae

A summary of your education, professional and volunteer history. This may be a maximum of two pages. Most applicants submit the CV in résumé-format, and this is fine, but do not simply submit your latest job résumé. Be sure to include your accomplishments outside of work – volunteer work, awards, publications, etc.

Letters of Recommendation

Three letters of recommendation are required. They may be from any faculty that you have had—they do not have to be from the last time you were a full-time student. Ideally, at least two of the three letters should come from people who have taught you and are thus able to comment directly on your intellectual capacity and academic potential. Recommenders must submit their letters online.

ON-LINE APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Be sure to refer to these instructions for the MLA Program as you proceed. You do not need to complete the on-line application in one session—you may save your entries and come back to it.

All application materials must be completed on-line or received in our office by January 30, 2018.

We do not evaluate applications until after January 30, so there is no advantage to submitting early. Give yourself time and go over your responses before doing the final submit. Good luck and we look forward to reviewing your application!

To begin: go to <http://gradadmissions.stanford.edu>

- Click on Apply Now in the left column
- Click the red Start Application Button
- Click on Create Your Account and set up your account. You will be required to verify your account, then log in. Under Go To the Application Form, click Apply Now.
- Note that the online application is referred to as a “form” throughout the online instructions.

To go back into your application after you have started: go to the Graduate Admissions page listed above, and in the left column select Application Activity Status Page. Enter your user ID and password. Then click Work on Form button.

*Remember: you must complete and save through page 5 (Program Selection) in order for the MLA office to become aware of your application and send you the materials for the essay component.

*At the bottom of each page is a Save button. Use this to save your data between sessions. You can still go back and make changes on the saved pages—just save them again after making changes.

*If you do not answer required portions of the application you will get an error message. You can bypass this by clicking the Postpone Data Validation button at the bottom of the error box. This will allow you to continue to move through the application, but do remember that you will need to go back and fill those in before your final submit.

FOLLOWING THE ONLINE APPLICATION—question-by-question instructions

All fields should be filled in as requested except where noted below:

Pages 1 & 2: Biographical Information: Complete as required

Page 3: Ethnicity Information and Military Status: Complete as required

Page 4: Contact Information: Complete as required

Page 5: Program Selection: Choose Master of Liberal Arts

- select the Autumn 2018-2019 admissions term, then click Save Selection

Page 6: Academic Interests: (Optional) You may enter additional academic interests you have. Please note that this does not mean that we will offer “concentrations” in these areas—it is simply an area to tell us more about your general interests.

Pages 7 & 8: Educational History:

- ONLY enter data here for schools you have attended that led to a DEGREE (AA, BA, BS, MA, JD, PhD, etc.). GPA information is required for each school. You are required to upload an official transcript for each of these schools you enter (see page B of these instructions).

- In the Additional Educational History section include the names of every other institution you have attended for any amount of time (part-time or full-time). Include Stanford Continuing Studies, junior colleges and other continuing studies programs.
- The question about your contribution to the classroom must be filled out.
- Parent Occupation: this is not required.

- The GRE is not required for MLA applicants.
 - To proceed through the application, under “Select the Status of Your GRE General Test”, select I have a future GRE test date, and in the date prompt area, enter 02/2018.
- Please review the TOEFL requirements on page B of this document. Leave the section blank if you do not need to submit TOEFL scores.

Pages 10 & 11: Application Information:

- Page 10: “Faculty Members” through “Previous Application”—complete as required
- Page 10: Previous Enrollment: only answer Yes if it was in a degree program—do not include classes taken through Stanford Continuing Studies
- Page 11: Applying for financial aid: select No (You can find more information regarding MLA tuition assistance on our website. Students apply for assistance after they have been accepted into the program.)

Page 12: Employment History: Complete as required. If you are still employed at a particular job, you can leave the “To” date field blank. If you are retired, a stay-at-home parent, or not working, enter that in the Employer Name field, select Unemployed from the Industry list and enter ‘Retired’ or ‘stay-at-home parent’, etc. in the Job Title field. Please do enter your previous employment history in the next two areas.

Page 14: Recommendations: Please review the Letters of Recommendation information on page B of this document before proceeding.

- When you have entered the three recommenders of your choosing, be sure to click the Submit Recommendation Request button for each recommender.
- When you have clicked the Submit Request button your recommenders will receive an email from Stanford University with the Subject “Please submit your Recommendation.” The email they receive includes the instructions they need to complete the online recommendation.
- In the email they receive, a due date is not specified. It is your responsibility to inform them that their recommendation must be uploaded by January 30, 2018, and ensure that it is submitted by the deadline.
- You will receive an automatic email once they have submitted their letter. You can send email reminders to your recommenders on the Application Activity Status page.
- You can submit up to six names, but the program will only review three letters.
- If you need to change a listed recommender, log into your account and on the Activity Status page, select the recommender you want to change, and select edit. You will need to send the new recommender the reminder so that they get the email with the link to the site to submit their recommendation. You can only edit a recommender that has the status of “has not started yet.”
- Please see the MLA site for a document that you can send to your recommenders detailing the instructions and deadline. (Titled ‘Recommender Instructions’)

Page 15: Document Uploads, Confirmation, and Submission:

When uploading documents be sure to follow through step 3 of the File Upload to complete the upload and return to your application.

▪ Statement of Purpose (Intellectual Interest Essay):

Respond to the following question (do not write a Statement of Purpose—upload your response to the question below in place of the statement of purpose)

- In our adult lives we develop intellectual fascinations with particular subjects, and allow these topics to focus our intellectual attention, to direct our reading, sometimes to dictate our travels. You might, for instance, be interested in Roman engineering, in the stem cell debate, in human rights in developing countries, in the photography of the American Civil War, in Chinese landscape painting.

Describe an intellectual interest that you have developed. Tell us how you have gone about investigating this interest. How has this interest led you seek a Master of Liberal Arts degree? Limit essay to two pages in length, double spaced, and upload where it asks for Statement of Purpose.

▪ Master of Liberal Arts Related Uploads

- Upload your essay: upload your MLA application essay here. Refer to the instructions sent to you with the written piece. (See page B for more information on the MLA essay)
- Upload your Curriculum Vitae: upload your Curriculum Vitae here. Please read the Curriculum Vitae information on page B of this document before proceeding.

▪ Additional Information: do not submit additional information.

▪ Application Fee Waiver: the fee waiver is generally not available to MLA applicants. Please read the “About the Waiver” link to see if you qualify for a waiver.

▪ Confirmation and Submission: click the I Agree button and, if you have completed the entire application, click the Submit button. You will then be taken to a screen to complete payment.

Submitting Your Application

To consider your application, you must, by 11:59pm, January 30, 2018 have clicked the Submit button on the application site and paid the fee. By January 30, we must also have received your online letters of recommendation and your official transcripts in our office. Late or incomplete applications will not be considered.

Have hard copy transcripts sent to:

Stanford University
Master of Liberal Arts Program
Littlefield Center-Level G
365 Lasuen Street
Stanford, CA 94305

Have certified e-transcripts sent to:

mlaprogram@stanford.edu

The MLA office will notify you via email once per week when we have received any transcripts.

Checking the status of your application

You will be able to check the status of your on-line application and the status of any recommendations submitted through your account on the Graduate Admissions site.

All materials, once submitted, become the property of Stanford University.
